दिलवाली दिवाली - दिल से मनायें

My Dear DAV Family,

As the festive season approaches, I extend my warmest wishes to each one of you and your families.

Diwali is a time when we light diyas, share sweets, open our homes and hearts, and celebrate the bonds that bring us together. It is also a reminder that the greatest light we can spread is through kindness, simplicity, generosity of spirit and mutual respect.

In keeping with our values and ethos, I would like to request that we move away from exchanging gifts or hampers this Diwali.

After all, the warmth of a heartfelt conversation, the laughter shared over a cup of chai, or simply taking the time to enquire about one another means far more than an elegantly wrapped gift. A phone call, a personal visit, caring for friends and family, the sharing of fond memories - often bring greater happiness than anything money can buy.

Let us, therefore, make this Diwali a celebration of relationships rather than rituals of gift-giving. Let our gestures be measured not by the value of what we exchange, but by the affection, thoughtfulness and goodwill we share.

May we continue to build a DAV family where relationships are our greatest gifts, values are our enduring wealth, and the light we spread touches countless lives.

Wishing you and your loved ones a very-happy, prosperous and blessed Diwali!

With warm regards and affection,

Dr. Punam Suri
